

The Sustainability of a Woman's Leadership Organization

Ginny Belden-Charles

Table of Contents

Abstract.....	6
Dedication	6
Background & Introduction	8
Background & Introduction	8
A Question Emerges.....	11
Chapter One: The Story of the Women's Leadership Community	13
The Founding Story	13
Forming a Learning Trio	14
A Dialogue at the University of Massachusetts	15
Writing Together.....	16
Going Inward.....	16
Cape Cod, the Whales and Our Emerging Principles	18
Storytelling and Transformation	19
Women in Leadership: A Community Exploring the Path of Wisdom	19
The EISA Framework	20
The Formation of the Center for Emerging Leadership: 1997-1999.....	25
Women in Leadership (WIL) '97.....	25
The Formation of the Center for Emerging Leadership (CEL)	25
Early Governance Questions.....	26
The Launch Year: Overwhelmed!.....	27
Women in Leadership '98	28
Board Reflection on 1998	28
The Study Circle	28
Our Mission is Unclear	29
Women in Leadership '99: The Voice of Judgment	30
Coming Into Focus and Honoring an Ending	32
Growing the Rings: 2000-2004.....	33
Exploring the Essence	34
Trio Facilitation	34
Developing a WIL Workbook	35
Connecting the Cohorts	36
Getting Organized	36
An Appreciative Inquiry into Feminine Leadership.....	37
Defining a Replicable WIL Experience.....	38
Shifting Governance to the Board.....	39
Shifting Leadership and an Ending.....	41
Deb's Parting Gift	42
A New Board Story	43
The Women's Leadership Community Emerges: 2004-2007.....	45

The Working Board is Established.....	45
CEL Board 2005: “Breathing Out”	46
CEL Board 2006: “Breathing In”	51
CEL 2007: The Women’s Leadership Community	52
The Tenth Anniversary Celebration	55
Chapter Two: The Literature Search	59
Relational Leadership.....	59
Leadership Means Individual Leaders.....	59
The Rise of Relational Leadership	61
Challenges to the ‘Leader as Individual’ Mindset	62
Defining Relational Leadership through a Social Constructionist Lens	65
Relational Leadership Models.....	68
The Collective Feminine and Leadership	77
The Entry and Struggle of Women in Leadership	77
Three Views on Women in Leadership	79
An Emerging Fourth Wave of Feminism	92
Summary: Feminism and Relational Leadership.....	93
Community of Inquiry	95
Inquiry in Community	96
An Emerging Definition	97
Community Sustainability and Emergence	106
Reflections on the Literature	108
Chapter Three: Methodology.....	109
Considerations from Feminist Research	109
Autoethnography.....	111
Narrative Research.....	111
Community as Action Research	112
Methods.....	113
The Collective Story	114
Group Dialogues.....	114
Meeting with Parker Palmer	115
“Facilitation, the WLC Way” Retreat.....	116
Launching the “WhoNose” Group	116
Board-Facilitator Re-envisioning Retreat.....	117
2008 Alumnae Survey	117
Chapter Four: Research Summary	118
Three Dialogues	118
Alumnae Dialogue.....	119
Board Dialogue.....	128
Facilitator Dialogue	140
Meeting with Parker Palmer	158
WLC Alumnae Survey	162
Launching the “WhoNose” Cohort	167
Facilitation the WLC Way.....	172
Board – Facilitator Re-envisioning Retreat	174
Chapter Five: Interpreting the Collection: The Story, Conversations, Events and Surveys	184
Ongoing Deliberations	184
Defining the “essence” of WLC	184

Determining the Target Group and Growth Rate for Membership.....	185
Developing the Format by which We Bring Members Into WLC.....	185
Describing “The Feminine” to Both Insiders and Outsiders	185
Deciding When to “Put a Stake in the Ground” and When to “Go with the Flow”	186
Addressing Resource Allocation and Paying Fairly for Contributions.....	186
Balancing Influence, Power and Authority in Decision and Meaning Making.....	187
Organizational Themes	188
Making Room for One Another: The Ethic of Love as a Relational Stance	188
Engaging Hestia Energy: Hospitality, Beauty, Rituals and Symbols	193
Weaving the Webs of Connection: Structures for Sharing Power.....	195
Walking the Rainbow Path: Practices for Collective Reflection and Inquiry	201
Sustaining the Energy: Rhythms, Cycles, and Emergence in Community.....	206
Chapter Six: Applications and Concluding Thoughts	209
What Was Not Included.....	209
Applications for the Workplace	210
Make Time for Relationship Building.....	210
Practice Collective Inquiry and Reflection	211
Create Meaning through Image, Metaphor and Story	213
See and Value Collaboration as Leadership.....	213
Attend to Life Cycles and Rhythms	214
Applications for Women Leaders.....	215
Future Questions for WLC.....	216
Appendix A: Listing of the Community Archives.....	218
Appendix B: Study Circle Articles	219
Appendix C: The WLC Recipe Card.....	223
Appendix D: Agenda for Re-Envisioning Retreat	224
Appendix E: The 2008 WLC Alumnae Survey.....	226
References	231