

CONTENTS

The Frame	1
i. Introduction.....	1
ii. "Here We Are, Amazingly Alive, Against Long Odds"	1
iii. The Frame: The Clients, the Community Workers, the Supervisor, a Supervision of Solidarity	3
Part I. An Ethical Stance for Doing Justice : The Guiding Intentions.....	16
1. Introduction to an Ethical Stance for Doing Justice : The Guiding Intentions	17
2. The Guiding Intentions.....	22
A. Centering Ethics	22
B. Doing Solidarity.....	32
C. Addressing Power.....	45
D. Fostering Collective Sustainability	59
E. Critically Engaging with Language.....	73
F. Structuring Safety	90
3. Conclusion to an Ethical Stance for Doing Justice : The Guiding Intentions.....	102
Part II The Solidarity Group Practice.....	103
1. Introduction to the Solidarity Group Practice	103
2. Outline of the Solidarity Group.....	104
3. The Solidarity Group: An Imagined Practice Example.....	106
4. The Spirit of the Solidarity Group Practice: The East Van Crew	130
5. Furthering Talk on the East Van Crew's Solidarity Group.....	144
6. Following Threads of Intention: Focused Re-tellings from Solidarity Groups.....	148
7. Solidarity Notes: Letters from the Listening Witnesses.....	162
8. The Fluidity of the Solidarity Group: The Flow of Contexts and Formations	165
9. Furthering Talk from Within the Solidarity Group Practice.....	168
10. Other Solidarity Practices Informed by the Guiding Intentions	171
A. The Solidarity Team	171
B. People-ing the room	175
C. The Supervision Witnessing Interview	176
11. Conclusion to the Solidarity Group Practice	181
Part III: Looking Back and Looking Ahead	182
1. Witnessing my experience: Trying to hold on to a fish that is morphing into an octopus	182
2. "Any tool is a weapon if you hold it right"	186
A. Fears in Relation to the Solidarity Group Practice Itself.....	186
B. Fears Related to the Ethical Positioning of the Work.....	187
Endnote	188
Acknowledgments	190
Appendix I	192
Expansive Inquiry Questions for Participants of Solidarity Groups.....	192
Appendix II. Training and Supervision Exercises.....	195
References.....	197