

CONTENTS >>>

Foreword by Kenneth J. Gergen	11
Authors' Preface to the English Edition (2012)	15
Authors' Preface to the Danish Edition (2007)	19
List of Stories on Moral Dilemmas in Organizations	23
List of Figures	25
CHAPTER 1: WHY RELATIONAL ETHICS?	27
CHAPTER 2: SOCIAL CONSTRUCTION AND RELATIONAL ETHICS	39
Realism and Social Constructionism	41
Social Constructionist Assumptions in an Organizational Setting	44
Reflections	61
CHAPTER 3: CONTEXT AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY	63
Story 1: The Open Invitation that let an Employee embarrass Herself	66
The Creative Powers of Language	68
Words at Work	70
Interaction as the Coordination of Meaning	77
Speech Acts	82
Episodes	86
Unpredictable and Uncontrollable Communication in Organizations	89
Story 2: Friendly Concern or Sexual Harassment?	90
Social Responsibility	97
CHAPTER 4: RELATIONSHIPS AND DIALOGIC OBLIGATIONS	101
The Relational Role of Language	103
Culture and Ethics	104
Story 3: The Researcher's Moral Dilemmas in an Unfamiliar Culture	106
Shifting Levels of Context	112
Story 4: Trial Period Evaluation Turned Therapy	113
Two Approaches to Relational Thinking	118
Characteristics of Subject-Object Relationships in Organizations	122
Dialogic Obligations	124
Reflections	129

CHAPTER 5: DISCOURSE AND THE SHARED RESPONSIBILITY FOR POSITIONING	133
Positioning and Ethics	134
Story 5: The Course Participant who was invited to Share Private Information	136
Positioning Theory	139
Discourses of Disrespectful Relationships	145
The Discourse on Change Management	145
The Discourse on Individual Dysfunction, Diagnosis and Treatment	148
The Discourse on Documentation and Evaluation	155
Negative Effects of the three Discourses	163
Reflections	166
CHAPTER 6: INQUIRY AND APPRECIATION OF VALUE TO THE WORK COMMUNITY	171
Inquiry as Experiential Learning: John Dewey	172
Experience and Participatory Knowledge	178
Developing Morality	180
The Ethics of Recognition: Axel Honneth	185
Recognition as the Basic Form of Appreciation	186
Categories of Moral Disrespect	188
Recognition/Appreciation as a Moral Obligation	191
Story 6: The Manager who put her Foot down with the Consultants	195
Emotions as a Barometer of Morality	200
Appreciative Inquiry	202
Appreciative Inquiries into “The Positive”	204
Story 7: The Employee who consulted her Coach about Stress	207
Appreciative Inquiry as an Alternative to Traditional Problem-Solving	214
Responsibility and Moral Obligations	222
Inquiry of value to the work community	224
Reflections	228
CHAPTER 7: POWER AND THE OBLIGATION TO INTERACT AS MORALLY RESPONSIBLE AGENTS	231
Traditional versus Modern Power	232
Disciplinary Technologies	237
Story 8. The Manager with poor Results on a 360-Degree Appraisal	242
Confession Technologies	246
Resisting Modern Self-Technologies	253
Story 9: The Employee who inadvertently betrayed a Friend	254
The Obligation to interact as Morally Responsible Agents	260
Reflections	261

CHAPTER 8: MORAL COMPASS POINTS IN RELATIONAL ETHICS	267
Insights from the Nine Stories	268
Relational Ethics as a useful Guide to Moral Choices	269
Key Concepts and Moral Compass Points	271
Moral Obligations and Entitlements in Relational Ethics	273
Reflections	279
 ABOUT THE AUTHORS	 289
 REFERENCES	 293