

Learning New Ideas and Practices Together
 A co-operative inquiry into learning to use Johnella Bird's relational language-making approach in couples therapy
 by Ottar Ness

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.....	vii
ABSTRACT.....	ix
LIST OF FIGURES .....	xiv
LIST OF EXEMPLARS .....	xv
CHAPTER I: INTRODUCTION.....	1
My Interest: The Ethics of Collaboration.....	1
Collaborative Action Research Approach – Co-operative Inquiry .....	3
Purpose and Question Answered.....	3
Rationale and Significance of the Project .....	4
Chapter Breakdown.....	4
CHAPTER II: SOCIAL CONSTRUCTIONISM.....	5
Introduction to Social Constructionism.....	5
Micro Social Constructionism.....	6
Kenneth J. Gergen.....	7
John Shotter.....	9
Macro Social Constructionism .....	11
Michel Foucault. ....	11
Blending Micro and Macro Social Constructionism .....	13
Therapy as a Social Construction.....	14
Conversation as therapeutic practice.....	15
Collaboration.....	15
Supervision as Social Construction .....	16
Research as Social Construction .....	16

LEARNING TOGETHER

Summary.....	17
JOHNELLA BIRD.....	18
Johnella Bird.....	18
Relational Language-Making.....	18
Attentiveness to language use.....	19
Collaborative therapeutic politics of meaning-making.....	21
From private constructions to relational constructions.....	22
Summary.....	25
CHAPTER IV: METHODOLOGY.....	26
Defining Action Research.....	26
Origins of action research.....	27
An organizational framework for action research.....	28
Trondheim Family Therapy Centre – the Research Context.....	29
Participants.....	29
Participant therapists.....	29
Participant clients.....	30
Timeline for the study.....	31
Co-operative Inquiry.....	31
Co-operative Inquiry as a form of action research.....	31
Epistemology within a Co-operative Inquiry.....	31
Extending epistemology within Co-operative Inquiry.....	32
The Co-operative Inquiry process.....	33
Validity in Co-operative Inquiry.....	36
Comprehensive Process Analysis.....	40
Situational Analysis – Making Sense of Data.....	41

LEARNING TOGETHER

From grounded theory to situational analysis. ....	41
Wordle – a preliminary step towards situational maps. ....	43
Situational mapping strategies. ....	43
Summary.....	45
CHAPTER V: FINDINGS.....	46
The Situational Analysis of Our Shared Learning Project .....	46
Word clouds – a preliminary step towards abstract situational maps. ....	47
Abstract situational maps of our shared learning project .....	49
Abstract situational map: messy/working version. ....	50
Abstract situational map: ordered/working version. ....	54
Relational analysis within the abstract situational map: ordered/working version. ....	56
Social Worlds/Arenas map of our shared learning project.....	60
Positional map of our shared learning project.....	62
(A) Positions from evaluating our learning from reading Bird’s books, listening to her CDs, and from viewing her DVD. ....	66
(B) Positions from evaluating our learning from group discussions, supervision and practice. ....	69
(C) Positions related to evaluating our learning from self-supervision. ....	71
(D) Positions related to evaluating our learning from eliciting client feedback.	74
(E) Positions related to evaluating our learning from personal reflections regarding the overall shared learning process.....	78
Summary.....	81
CHAPTER VI: DISCUSSION AND IMPLICATIONS .....	82
Our Learning Process as a Form of Co-operative Inquiry .....	82
Key highlights of our learning experiences.....	84
Collaborative learning projects. ....	84

LEARNING TOGETHER

Staying fresh in one’s practice .....	84
Use of video-recording.....	85
Implications .....	86
Implications for therapists’ training.....	86
Implications for therapy research.....	89
Possible Limitations of the Study.....	91
Questions for Further Research .....	92
Concluding remarks.....	92
REFERENCES .....	93
APPENDIX A: PARTICIPANT THERAPISTS INFORMATION .....	107
APPENDIX B: PARTICIPANT CLIENTS INFORMATION .....	108
APPENDIX C: RECRUITMENT LETTER FOR PARTICIPANT THERAPISTS .....	109
APPENDIX D: INFORMED CONSENT FOR PARTICIPANT THERAPISTS.....	110
APPENDIX E: INFORMED CONSENT FOR PARTICIPANT CLIENTS.....	112

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1: Word cloud of the entire text from chapter three of this dissertation.....	43
Figure 2: Word cloud of the transcripts from research journals.....	47
Figure 3: Word cloud of the transcripts from group meetings.....	48
Figure 4: Word cloud of clients' comments.....	49
Figure 5: Abstract situational map: messy/working version (messy map).....	51
Figure 6: Abstract situational map: ordered/working version.....	55
Figure 7: Relational analysis within the ordered situational map .....	57
Figure 8: Social worlds/arenas map of the shared learning project.....	61
Figure 9: Positional map of the shared learning project.....	64